About ZimHealth–Europe

The Zimbabwe Network for Health – Europe (ZimHealth – Europe) is a registered association in Geneva, founded by Zimbabweans as a non-profit organisation. ZimHealth seeks to mobilise financial resources and the support of Zimbabweans living in Switzerland and the rest of Europe, as well as in other regions, and other interested individuals, health-care providers, the private health-care sector, faith-based institutions, local authorities, development agencies and private corporations in an effort to strengthen health-care services in Zimbabwe.

Collaboration between the public and private sector has always been the engine of economic and social development in Zimbabwe. ZimHealth works on the principle that it is Zimbabweans, individually and collectively, who are primarily responsible for developing and maintaining their own health system.

Zimbabweans in the diaspora, as individuals, have shown tremendous willingness and generosity to contribute to the health and welfare of family and friends in Zimbabwe. Collectively, this contribution can achieve more by providing not only for family and friends but also for fellow countrymen and women back home.

ZimHealth unites Zimbabweans from all walks of life in order to mobilise resources which are urgently required to revive and sustain health service in Zimbabwe.

About Health Care in Zimbabwe

In the past decade, the once highly-regarded Zimbabwe public health system has been facing challenges in maintaining and sustaining the universal access to health care which it achieved in the 1980s and early 1990s.

Maintaining access to universal health-care in both the public and private sectors is now a major challenge.

Members of ZimHealth regard the health of all Zimbabweans as our collective responsibility. Hence, the need for Zimbabweans from all walks of life to unite in an effort to mobilise resources which are urgently required to rehabilitate and maintain health facilities, procure clinical equipment and other commodities and to support health-care providers working under challenging conditions in Zimbabwe.
